

Witness the Excellent Soundscape in Seb Wiggins' 'Giving Up on Love'

Feel the exciting vibes in the EDM track 'Giving Up on Love' by Seb Wiggins on Spotify. This track proves Seb's mastery in EDM, house and future house genres.

Cardiff, Dec 31, 1969 (IssueWire.com) - With the EDM music scene gaining momentum every season, new artists and composers are making gala appearances on Spotify with their exclusive music pieces. One artist named Seb Wiggins has made a great come back with a latest single titled 'Giving Up on Love' on the gala after being aloof for almost a year. Seb, a multi-talented composer cum singer masters in different sub-genres of EDM with special reference to house music. His new single delivers a new soundscape that has hardly been heard before.

Right from catchy vocal notes to feet tapping beats the single 'Giving Up on Love' is something that will compel fans to get rid of negativity and refuel themselves with enthusiasm and positivity. Seb

Wiggins has a proven track record in the music industry and has been supported by famous artists such as Panuma, GAB, GSPR and Yanic. The powerful drop, surreal soundscape and appealing vocal is what sets the music piece different from the other singles in the EDM genre. The track is similar in style and form as in the compositions such as Chill Your Mind and Selected.

Seb is working on many new projects that he will soon be releasing on Spotify and other music platforms. He is confident enough to beat his contemporaries and he knows that the innovative soundscape of his tracks cannot be produced by the other EDM composers in the contemporary music scene. Seb Wiggins is very active in social media platforms like Instagram. Follow him to keep a track of his upcoming projects and events.
