New York City, Sep 10, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Fridman is a general & bariatric surgeon who created weight loss history as the first surgeon in Connecticut to perform the Orbera® Gastric Balloon non-surgical weight loss procedure. He is currently affiliated with Fairfield County Bariatrics & Surgical Specialists, P.C. in Norwalk, Connecticut. As Connecticut's leading bariatric practice, Fairfield County

Bariatrics & Surgical Specialists, P.C. has always been innovators in providing the latest procedures for weight loss and other procedures that weight loss patients can benefit from, as soon as they are developed and approved by the federal government.

Dr. Fridman is the Bariatric Director at Griffin Hospital in Derby, Connecticut. He also holds privileges at Norwalk Hospital and St. Vincent's Medical Center. Dr. Fridman earned his Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree from the New York Institute of Technology College of Osteopathic Medicine in 2006. He then went on to complete his internship at Long Island Jewish Medical Center, followed by his residency at Lutheran Medical Center in Brooklyn, where he was awarded the Sampath Kumar Award. He also completed his fellowship in minimally invasive & bariatric surgery at the Cleveland Clinic in Florida in 2012.

During his fellowship, Dr. Fridman worked within the bariatric program and participated in the care and surgical treatment of over a hundred cases, including laparoscopic banding, gastric sleeve, Roux-en-Y gastric bypass procedures, as well as revisional bariatric surgery. He followed patients from seminar to postoperative care.

Dr. Fridman had the privilege of studying under Dr. Raul Rosenthal, a renowned bariatric and general surgeon, who is the Editor of the Bariatric Times - a nationally published medical journal. Dr. Fridman contributed to the studies and submitted articles for publication in the Bariatric Times. He was also selected to give an abstract presentation at the annual American Society for Metabolic and Bariatric Surgeons in San Diego, California.

Dr. Fridman is a member of the American Society of Metabolic and Bariatric Surgeons, the American College of Osteopathic Surgeons, the American Osteopathic Association, and the Society of American Gastrointestinal and Endoscopic Surgeons. Furthermore, he is also a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

General surgery is a surgical specialty that focuses on abdominal contents including the esophagus, stomach, small intestine, large intestine, liver, pancreas, gallbladder, appendix and bile ducts, and often the thyroid gland. Bariatric surgery includes a variety of procedures performed on people who have obesity. The most common bariatric surgery procedures are gastric bypass, sleeve gastrectomy, adjustable gastric band, and biliopancreatic diversion with duodenal switch. In addition to the laparoscopic bariatric surgical procedures, Dr. Fridman is trained to perform laparoscopic funduplications for the treatment of severe gastroesophageal reflux disease, laparoscopic cholecystectomies, appendectomies, as well as hiatal hernia repairs for general surgical patients.
