October 1, 2019 11am - 4pm

Edison, Sep 3, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Roosevelt, NJ – HireLifeScience.com, the premier career website for the Life Science industries, will host its 10th annual career fair at The NJ Convention and Exposition Center at Raritan Center in Edison, NJ on October 1, 2019. Novo Nordisk is an event sponsor for the sixth consecutive year. The pharmaceutical company has over 80 open positions listed on HireLifeScience.com. Covance, a Labcorp Company, will attend the event as a sponsor marking the seventh year in a row the company will send representatives to the annual hiring event. Some other companies who will attend are Novartis, AMRI, Envision Pharma Group, Center for Electroneurodiagnostics (CEN), GENEWIZ, Jazz Pharmaceuticals, AuroLife Pharm, Amicus Therapeutics, PharmaLab Enterprises, Indegene, Legend Biotech, Charles River Laboratories, Sollers College, Eli Lilly, and Quest Diagnostics. Additional companies will be added during the month of September.

Registration is now open and professionals are encouraged to pre-register for the event at <https://www.HireLifeScience.com/career>. The event is exclusive to Life Science professionals who possess a minimum of two years' experience working for a Life Science related company and a minimum of a four-year Life Science related degree. Doors will open for qualified professionals at 11 a.m. and the event will conclude at 4 p.m.

The HireLifeScience.com Career Fair 2019 will be one of the industry's most qualified gatherings of companies and professionals.

The objective of the event is to bring the HireLifeScience.com client companies and network of professionals together in one place expediting the hiring process. This annual career fair is exclusive to direct hiring companies and no third-party recruiters will participate in the event. Professionals with a background related, but not limited to: Bioinformatics; Clinical Research; Laboratory; Quality QA & QC;

Medical Communications; Manufacturing; Medical Device; Regulatory Affairs; Research & Development; and Pharma/Biotech Sales & Marketing should attend.

“Our 10th annual hiring event has never been more needed for companies, in my opinion. With more job openings than available talent, the time is now for employers to pull out all the stops to recruit talent. I am excited about the opportunity our loyal audience has to take advantage of the current market and further their careers with our event.” stated Rob Masterson, President, and Founder of HireLifeScience.com.

Since 2005 HireLifeScience.com has provided Life Science professionals with the ability to apply directly to Life Science companies and avoid third-party recruiters during the hiring process. HireLifeScience.com is designed to help Life Science professionals personalize the job search by building professional profiles; creating personalized job alerts; connecting live with individual company HR representatives, and applying directly to thousands of jobs in the Life Science industries.
