Get to know Internist Dr. Mozhgan Zafar, who serves patients in Snellville, Georgia.

New York City, Oct 21, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Board-certified internist, Dr. Zafar has special interest in women's heart health and preventing heart disease among the general population. Her approach to interacting with her patients is to be honest and frank in her communication with them while remaining compassionate.

She can be found on staff at Eastside Primary Care in Snellville, Georgia. The professionals at Eastside Primary Care are dedicated to treating the patient, not just the condition. Their approach to maintaining wellness is detecting disease early and monitoring complex health concerns all the while providing the best quality medical care.

With years of experience in the field of internal medicine, Dr. Zafar's patients have excellent things to say about her, one stating "I was very impressed with the friendly and professional manner that Dr. Zofar exhibited at my recent wellness visit. She was compassionate and knowledgeable. I would highly recommend her as a family internist!"

Originally from Iran, she enrolled in medical school at Shiraz University of Medical Sciences at the age of 18. After graduating, she practiced as a cardiologist before relocating to the United States. She completed her residency in Michigan and then moved to Iowa, where she began practicing as an Internist.

Internal medicine is the medical specialty dealing with the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of adult diseases. Physicians specializing in internal medicine are called internists. They are skilled in the management of patients who have undifferentiated or multi-system disease processes. In addition, they care for hospitalized and ambulatory patients and may play a major role in teaching and research.
