

NOMU S50 pro, The Most Reliable Companion On The Journey

Carmel, Oct 10, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - The outdoor travel market is one of the few industries around the world that hasn't fallen into recession because of the financial crisis. As outdoor travel gets widely popular, Rafting, diving, skiing and other sports that once involving a small number of people are also becoming increasingly common in our life.

However, tourism develops rapidly, and the number of discarded mobile phones also keeps growing. There is a high possibility that the phone will be broken because of falling, water and dust entering. People are keen on outdoor sports like travel, and the challenges, excitements and even dangers that come with them require them to equip with more professional outdoor equipment. In this case, the value of the rugged phone increased, a well-performing rugged phone is undoubtedly a close companion during outdoor activities. NOMU S50 PRO is such a phone that helps you to deal with any tough tasks you throw at it.

It needs to be specially noted that the protection level of NOMU S50 Pro reaches both IP68 and IP69k which can successful survive from 2 meters water immersion for one hour and protect against close-range high pressure, high-temperature spray downs. Also, it can tolerate 1.8 free droppings while other phones can only arrive at the most basic standard of protection. Not only that, it has passed the U.S. military standard STD-810G test, which performs well in the extreme environment of high temperature, high pressure, and high humidity. The NOMU S50 pro is well qualified to handle possible mobile phone accidents in outdoor sports.

In addition, this phone supports underwater photo taking. The camera combination of 8.0MP+16.0MP and dual-color flash make the picture clear and natural, which is very suitable for users who like diving or other water sports. Unlike other rugged phones, which require the camera to be turned on ahead of time before entering the water, the NOMU S50 has a shortcut button for taking pictures and shooting them whenever you want.

If you're an outdoor enthusiast, this phone runs on the MTK6762 platform and Android 8.1 will not make you down, which is currently on sale at a friendly price. It should be noted that NOMU S50 PRO only supports the Eurasian version of the relevant frequency band. See more information:

<https://www.nomu.hk/>. Buying on the official web, you will enjoy the best price, the most timely and professional after-sales service, and the latest authoritative information about the product.

Media Contact

NOMU Mobile

social@nomu.hk

Source : NOMU Mobile

See on IssueWire : <https://www.issuewire.com/nomu-s50-pro-the-most-reliable-companion-on-the-journey-1646973286752115>