Love Is Misguided and Misused and a Lot of Fun

A searing look into the steps people take for love
THE FOUR STEPS TOWARDS LOVE

Written by Joseph Guyton

The word LOVE has been misused, misguided, misunderstood, abused, accused, amused, concurred, condemned, condoned, confounded, confused, conquered, enslaved, surrendered and when everything else fails: Get the hell away from each other.
Pittsburg, Nov 22, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - The word love has indeed been abused, misunderstood, and enslaved. Joseph Guyton shares these same sentiments in his book The Four Steps Towards Love but takes it up a notch as he also tackles about feelings, wisdom, passion, humor, joy, and entertainment. There are erotic stories of love, poems of romance, love letters, facts of life, and some plain old crap that you have heard before. Over thousands of years, society has practiced cultivating, educating, legislating, manipulating, and discriminating how love is shared. Sometimes it happens naturally—two people become one forever after. The circle of trust, faith, and commitment has been established—they were soul mates from the beginning. While some find love through marriage and others find love from the birth of their child, there are also those who just stumble upon love. And Joseph’s fascinating book shares with you that if you believe the love of your life is out there, then you must practice how to love yourself first.

Joseph Guyton holds three degrees in the fields of criminal justice, private investigation, and business management. He began his professional life as a cartoonist for the New Jersey Voice when he was sixteen, moving on to become a photographer for a modeling agency and later worked his way up through the bookseller industry over a twenty-five-year period. During that time, he owned and managed several retail spaces, and he currently works in private security.

Joseph’s work will be exhibited at the Miami Book Fair Street Fair weekend, to be held at Miami Dade College (Wolfson Campus) in downtown Miami this coming November 22-24 at the Authors Press booth. You may meet the author personally at our booth starting at 10:30 a.m. on the 23rd of November where he will be signing copies, with free giveaways.
