Rare Earth Exploration

Garland, Nov 2, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Rare Earth Exploration inks deal with Waterloo Media, KLBJ 590 AM and 99.7 FM News Radio Austin Texas to launch the Helium Hunters radio show. The show will air every Sunday afternoon between 3-4 pm. CST on 590 AM and 99.7 FM Austin. The Helium Hunters podcast will also be available 24-7. The show will revolve around helium education, helium news, industry experts and new technology drilling advances along with geological, archaeological and Native American history of Eastern Arizona which include the Petrified Forest and Holbrook Basin Arizona. Current helium investment opportunities will also be discussed.

Airing will begin within the next week starting on November 10th, 2019 and will be hosted by Brad Haycraft, Tim Taylor and Sean Shehan of Rare Earth Exploration. This will be the first helium talk show of its kind on Austin radio with an expected listener base of approximately 4,500 in the Austin market and time slot. The show will debut considering the global helium shortage and will address the steps Rare Earth Exploration and the Helium Hunters are taking to address this crisis.
