Thunder Bay, Nov 13, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - Revel Distro announced the launch of a new music distribution and promotion company. The company will feature digital music distribution to major outlets along with available music promotion such as Spotify Playlist Pitching, YouTube Promotion, Radio Promotion and more.

Revel Distro CEO Michael Mania-Bond hailing from Thunder Bay, ON and born in Manitouwadge, ON said "I put together this idea not only to help Thunder Bay artists but also indie artists from all over. At Revel Distro we want artists to succeed, we are also playlist curators and add artist's music to our playlists of all genres. I feel there was something missing there are dozens of distribution companies out there that you can release your music on but then it's an up-to-the artist to find promotion companies, we offer all the at Revel Distro."

Although there are many digital distributors, Revel Distro intends to offer a better overall experience for the artists and direct communication to help artists profit from their music. "Any artist who releases with us will have access to our promotion services as well every quarter we will give $200 USD to the artist who earned the most royalties that quarter," Michael continued. "We are implementing this so it gives artists an incentive to push their music to the next level. It allows indie artists to work on their growth and possibly achieve every artist's goal of making a living in this industry."

Revel Distro has already had a soft launch and has accumulated over 100 artists using their distribution services. These artists have already seen an increase in streams over the past few weeks then they seen on other platforms. Several artists have begun to move over their whole catalog of music to Revel Distro. "Our goal is one-thousand plus artists to be using the platform by the end of 2020," Michael said.
