

Find Authority has started experts marketplace

A great opportunity for market researchers

London, Dec 3, 2019 (IssueWire.com) - Find Authority is a questions and answers (Q&A) platform which helps professionals to find information which is hard to find elsewhere. Find Authority is different from other Q&A websites as it is highly targeting industries related topics. It covers almost all markets, from manufacturing to healthcare.

Find Authority has now launched a marketplace for industry research services. Companies are encouraged to publish their research inquiries for free and get responses from the market-leading experts.

Our industry research service is ideal for companies which occasionally require help from independent market experts. Find Authority provides excellent opportunities to both experts and clients to directly negotiate without a middle man. Both sides can conduct their own vetting process for the project.

Why not Sign Up today and start posting your project inquiry for free by visiting <https://www.findauthority.com/>
