Kuta, Dec 3, 2019 (Issuewire.com) - “Patrick Byrne spent his relaxing time in remote Island in Indonesia, and was visiting some villages. Junior Garcia has a chance to take his picture with locals.”

Patrick Byrne, former Overstock CEO was spending his day off in Indonesia. He visited one of the remote islands in this beautiful tropical archipelago. While enjoying the beauty of the island, his activity was taken by Junior Garcia from JuniorGarciaPhotography.com. Thus, it created a good collection of a shot of him spending and communicating with the locals in that island.

The island isn't only holding beautiful scenery. A village also can be found on the island. Byrne visited this village and meet with people and kids who live there. As it is shown in the photo, he interacts with many children from that village. This village can be categorized to be a poor village. Even though the condition is not that good, the village spends their days happily doing their everyday chores and profession.

It was a rare opportunity for Byrne visiting the poor villages in the remote Island of Indonesia. After Byrne resigned from his previous position as Overstock.com CEO, he has been traveling to many places in the world. Indonesia is the latest destination for his travel. Since then, it is difficult to meet and find Byrne. Therefore, what Junior Garcia did was amazing. He also has successfully captured one of the best moments of Byrne with locals.

"He is a millionaire guy using flip flops with poor people around smiling to him on a remote island in Indonesia" Junior Garcia stated to one of his photographs.
