

The Nicholson Clinic Announces Major Patient Milestones

One of leading bariatric centers in Texas is a destination for weight loss procedures after treating patients from all over the globe.

NICHOLSON CLINIC

For Weight Loss Surgery

With you all the way.

Plano, Feb 2, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - The Nicholson Clinic has established a reputation for years as one of the top locations for weight loss surgery in Texas. However, it appears that reputation is spreading as the clinic was recently able to announce that they've treated patients from all fifty states in the course of their practice. Dr. Nick Nicholson, the founder of the clinic, is understandably proud of the accomplishment.

“Let’s face it. We’re not the only clinic in the country offering the variety of weight loss surgeries and procedures for patients. However, our reputation for professionalism, compassion, and results has made patients from all across the United States choose us as their destination for weight loss procedures. Their confidence in our results is truly staggering,” the surgeon said.

In the clinic's long history, doctors have treated over 15,000 patients. While the majority of these patients come from Texas, more and more patients are making the trek to travel to have their procedure done at the Nicholson Clinic, something the team of healthcare providers is very aware of.

“As more and more patients from all over the globe seek out our services, we are dedicating resources to making these trips just as successful as those who are coming from just down the road,” Dr. Nicholson added.

Ever considered traveling for surgery? To help facilitate the trip for visiting patients, the clinic offers advice on how long to plan a stay when coming for bariatric surgery, allowing for pre-op appointments, surgery, rest and recovery before flying home. In addition, the procedures can be performed at a number of the clinic or hospital partnerships in the DFW area.

Want to know why more people are making the trip to the Nicholson Clinic for weight loss surgery? Tune in to the Nicholson Clinic Facebook Page on Friday, February 21st at noon CST for a special Facebook Live at lunch. Join Dr. Thomas Roshek, Bariatric Surgeon with the Nicholson Clinic and a New Jersey patient, Ariel, as she shares how she lost over 100 pounds with weight loss surgery, and why she and her three family members, all traveled from the East Coast to Texas to have surgery at the Nicholson Clinic.

As well as announcing treating patients from all 50 states, the clinic is thrilled to announce that their patients include residents in ten countries from around the world.

“It’s humbling to be entrusted with the health, well-being, and weight loss of patients from around the globe, and we will always strive to be the best possible destination for our patients,” Nicholson finished.
