

Timeshare Resale Advertiser BuyaTimeshare.com Celebrates 20 Years of Success

The timeshare advertising company celebrates its 20th anniversary as a pioneer in the online timeshare resale marketplace.

Tampa, Jan 22, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Online timeshare resale advertiser BuyaTimeshare.com has reached a significant milestone by celebrating the company's 20th anniversary.

Beginning in 2000 at the advent of Google's emergence into the world of online search, the company helped to open up an entirely new way that owners could promote and sell timeshare ownership. Since then, BuyaTimeshare.com has continued to connect timeshare sellers with buyers and renters through its data-protected system - generating hundreds of millions of dollars in offers for its clients, with $100million just in the last two years alone.

"According to the Small Business Association, only 25% of businesses make it beyond even 15 years, so I am extremely grateful that our company has not only made it this far but has exceeded expectations," said Wes Kogelman, President and CEO, BuyaTimeshare.com. "Our perseverance, attention to customer service and ability to adjust to the ever-changing world of online search has allowed us to be as successful as we are."

“Our secure, data-protected platform lets owners promote their timeshares to the one million visitors coming to us each year looking for deals and information. Our team is the best in the business at creating those opportunities for sellers to negotiate directly with buyers and renters,” added Kogelman.

BuyaTimeshare.com is the only resale company to be accepted into membership of all three North American industry trade associations. The American Resort Development Association (ARDA), Canadian Vacation Ownership Association (CVOA) and the Mexico Resort Development Association AMDETUR have all vetted the company’s operation and approved their membership as an ethical and legitimate provider of resale services.
