

Ciphers for Deeper Knowledge and Faith on Newly Launched Book

Author illustrates playful learning ways of the Bible.

London, Feb 28, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Incorporating challenging games with learning is definitely a fun way to have an educational spiritual journey. Perhaps taking another level to get a closer relationship with God in one's life through a coded bible could be an interesting experience, and this is what Bible Coded Books (I-IV) by David Conine apparently offers. This 4th book, Bible Coded Book IV: A Collection of Cryptograms of Bible Teachings, contains 135 puzzles and completes a collection of 540 cryptograms extracted from all books in the Bible.

A cryptogram is a puzzle where each letter of a word has been replaced by another. In the book, there are three hints for each puzzle which are illustrated on page 7. The puzzles are taken from four books. Each of the books consists of 135 puzzles, while the 4th one contains the complete details about the solutions for all of the cryptograms, conveniently indexed by book, chapter, and verse. The book aims to provide a meaningful experience of a non-traditional way of enlightenment after completing all the cryptograms.

David is a former volunteer of the Peace Corps. He has also honorably served the US Army as an officer but has mostly practiced his career at Abbott Laboratories as a toxicologist. He and his wife, Judy, have been happily married for over fifty years and reside in Vonore, Tennessee.

David's work will be exhibited at the London Book Fair 2020, to be held at Olympia, London this coming March 10-12 at the Authors Press booth 1E38. You may meet the author personally at our booth starting at 02:00 p.m. on the 10th of March.
