

From Italy to Latin America, Nico Donys flies with his reggaeton.

The Italian phenomenon considered the new Italian reggaetonero makes the world dance with its overwhelming latin rhythm.

Miami, Feb 16, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Nico Donys is one of the emerging Italian singers, unique for his musical genre with lyrics in Spanish and reggaeton-based sound. His Latin charm and captivating voice not only conquers Italy and Europe by ranking at the top of some European music charts alongside international artists such as Maluma, Ozuna and J Balvin with his song "Para que te vas" taken from the album "369", but also manages to conquer the Latin American public after being nominated as the best Italian urban music artist in the Latin 305 Awards in Miami. Now the Italian singer is looking for awards and international stages such as the Latin Grammy and the Billboard Latin Music Awards. The singer says that to move to a higher level, the road will be long and difficult but not impossible. Certainly, his motivational load will never abandon him and only with sacrifice and perseverance can you really achieve what you want to achieve in life.
