Sameer Shaikh, CEO of Go Warranty & Services LLP, said: "Brands make fantastic gadgets and retailers are great at selling those gadgets. In today's busy schedule, the role of Home Appliances and gadgets has evolved from being a luxury to an everyday necessity. They have become an integral part of our lives and help us get so much done. Any breakdown of our appliances disrupts our everyday lives and throw us off our budget and schedule. Unfortunately, the harsh reality is, if something goes wrong with your precious gadget, it's a pain getting help from either the brand or the service engineer.

GoWarranty services provide brand warranty and repair services, so your appliances or devices keeps delivering the best performance so you can focus on what is important for you."

Sameer Shaikh, CEO of Go Warranty & Services LLP, said: "We're here because consumers deserve better experience when it comes to device ownership. Go Extended Warranty replicates and extends the manufacturer's warranty. That means that if your device suffers a malfunction or breakdown, we will repair or replace it for you. We bear all the costs required to fix along with all the legwork required to fix it." This pretty much sums up the value proposition for GoWarranty.

A few of the benefits of GoWarranty services include: GoWarranty offers a completely cash-less experience. There are no hidden fees or charges with service guaranteed from the brand's authorized service centers and trained technicians across India.

GoWarranty offers a quick and hassle-free claims process.

The brand provides protection plans like an extended warranty for 33 different electronic categories and over 390 plans available on its new website.
