A TRENTON LUMPKIN FILM

THROUGH HER EYES

Los Angeles, Feb 10, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Triauric Films has partnered with Shirley Caesar to release Trent Lumpkin's Through Her Eyes, which will premiere February 11th-23rd in Los Angeles at the Pan African Film Festival. The film will star Rayven Ferrell as Rosalee Wimbush. Set during the Civil Rights Era, Through Her Eyes, chronicles Rosalee Wimbush as she struggles to find the confidence to attend an all-while high school. While facing countless racial injustice and prejudice, Rosalee begins the journey of redemption as her home life becomes topsy-turvy. The cast of Wimbush family members is rounded out by Angela Ray's May, Shawn Luckey's Otis Sr., and Michael Rodney's Otis Jr.

This dramatic narrative is a short film loosely based on true life events in 1960s Selma, Alabama.
