Get to know Registered Nurse, Arlene Joan Evanowski, who served patients in Carmel Hamlet, New York.

New York City, Mar 14, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Arlene is a registered nurse who is retired from practice. During her active years on the job, she worked at Putnam Hospital Center in Carmel Hamlet, New York.

Putnam Hospital Center is a 164-bed, acute care hospital offering medical, surgical, psychiatric, and 24-hour emergency services. As the only hospital in Putnam County, Putnam Hospital Center has been serving the medical care needs of Putnam, northern Westchester, and southern Dutchess counties since 1964. Its mission is “to provide access to comprehensive and value-driven health care services to residents of Putnam and neighboring counties and to work collaboratively with physicians and others to enhance the health status of our community.”

In the early days of her academic career, Arlene earned her nursing degree from Montefiore School of Nursing in Mount Vernon, New York in 1958. In order to stay up to date in her field, she maintained a professional membership with the New York State Nurses Association and the Association of periOperative Registered Nurses.

A registered nurse (RN) is a nurse who has graduated from a nursing program and met the requirements outlined by a country, state, province or similar licensing body to obtain a nursing license. RNs fulfill a variety of job duties. In addition to their primary role in treating and caring for patients, their responsibilities also include educating patients and the public about a variety of medical conditions, as well as providing emotional support and advice to the families of their patients. Other RN job functions include leadership, research, performing diagnostic tests and analyzing results, operating medical equipment, administering medications, recording patients' symptoms and medical histories, and assisting with patient rehabilitation and follow-up.
