DollarStore.com was the first online market exchange in 1996 to streamline the buying and selling of discount general merchandise and close-out/surplus goods for dollar stores and related retailers, suppliers and entrepreneurs.

DollarStore.com is a ready-to-go platform that minimizes the risks of creating an online DollarStore presence. DollarStore is now offering entrepreneurs from all walks of life an opportunity to Own an Online DollarStore and earn revenue from sales of the products. DollarStore brings together all the relevant players (technology, marketing, shipping couriers, payment options, customer service) to make selling online a quick and easy process with a 100% turnkey, secured, customized online platform and all the tools necessary to run and grow a successful online DollarStore business.

This platform is optimized for high-frequency, small volume ecommerce consumer goods. Most of our items are made exclusively in America including a variety of well-recognized international brands.

DollarStore.com platform is built to take advantage of all the digital and online marketing skill sets that continually attract new customers at a low cost, as well as benefiting from traditional marketing methodologies.
