

Human Connection Expert Josh Hotsenpiller's New TEDx Talk on Recapturing the Art of Connection

Access the Wisdom Around You to Elevate Your Relationships

San Diego, Mar 2, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - CEO and Connection Expert, Josh Hotsenpiller, is pleased to announce a culture-revolutionizing TEDx talk on increasing connections in every area of life, a missing link for many Millennials and Gen-Zers who are reporting greater levels of social disconnection than ever before.

In spite of social technology, teens and young adults are more isolated than previous generations and are struggling to develop meaningful relationships. Josh Hotsenpiller uses technology as a way to teach teams and individuals that connecting can be as simple as connecting to Wi-Fi. His TEDx talk equips everyone from students to CEOs to up-level their relational quotient. To view Josh's TEDx talk and other featured topics, go to <https://joshhotsenpiller.com/videos/>.

Additionally, his new book, Wisen-Up!, provides a framework to increase anyone's skill in connecting with those around them. Through exercises, poignant questions, and emerging thought leadership, Josh guides the reader into a greater ability to connect at every level. Wisen-Up! Is available in print or digital formats at <http://bit.ly/2T99ITC>.

About Josh Hotsenpiller

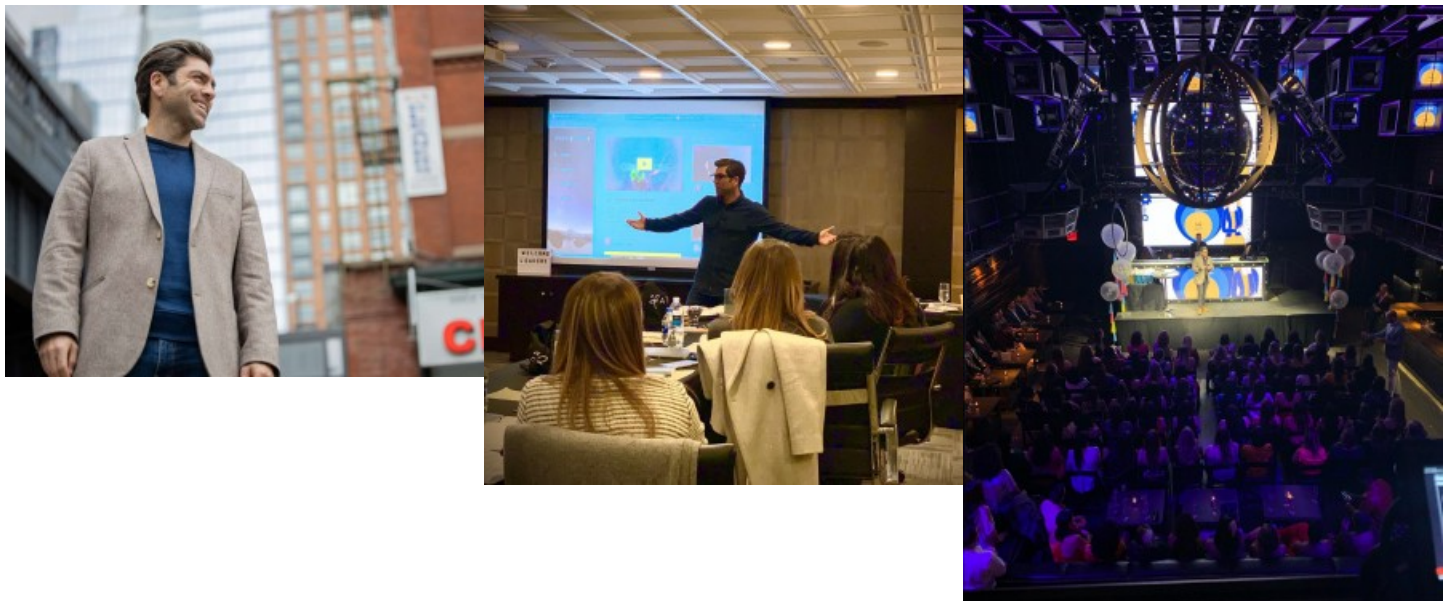

As a CEO, TEDx alum and U.S. Department of State speaker ambassador, Josh travels globally equipping and inspiring people across all sectors to re-learn and resurrect the power of human connection and soft skills. From keynotes to executive training, Josh partners with leading companies like Hewlett-Packard, Kelly Mitchell Staffing (Diamond Award winner of the Best of Staffing in Client Satisfaction), and Atrium (one of Crain's top NYC companies to work for) to increase employees' soft skills and emotional well-being.

Josh earned his theology degree in Nyack, New York. After starting a faith community in San Diego, CA with only his wife, the community grew to over 1000 regular attendees. Harnessing his desire to scale purpose-centered ideas, Josh co-founded Profits 4 Purpose, a SAAS software company empowering nearly 1 million global employees to volunteer and donate. After an exit to Yourcause and now Blackbaud, Josh founded and remains CEO of CrowdHub and Wisdom Capture. With millions of users connected to their various platforms, his clients include Unilever, UNICEF, HP, GoPro, Nestlé, and VISA among many others.
