

J. Leonardi's Barbeque - Located in Austin, Texas

New York City, Mar 20, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Serving Austin, Texas and the surrounding areas, J. Leonardi's Barbeque operates out of a food truck, offering a wide selection of classic southern-style comfort food. Whether you are craving smokey BBQ ribs, tender pulled-pork sandwiches, flavorful BBQ wraps or juicy brisket with great bark - they serve it all and at great prices.

Accommodated by live music and outdoor seating, this barbeque restaurant is inspired by foodies with an appetite for good food & good vibes. It is the ideal spot for lunch and dinner!

A pinch of soul and a dash of precision

Owned and operated by Cedric Griffin and Jerome Faulkner, J. Leonardi's Barbeque had its grand opening back in December of 2016. The J stands for Jerome and Leonard is Cedric's middle name.

Jerome learned to smoke barbeque from his uncle and while cooking for his grandmother. He and his partner have been friends for years, doing what they love to do and realizing their passion through food. To create that authentic Southern flavor, they use fresh ingredients and high-quality grills and smokers to produce the best combination of tastiness and tenderness.

While J. Leonardi's Barbeque is known for its variety of Texas-style BBQ by the pound, options such as sausage, chicken, turkey, assorted ribs, sandwiches, and brisket are also offered. Then, there are sides such as potato salad, jalapeño corn with turkey, pinto beans with brisket, smoked cabbage, and more - all of which add that extra zest to each dish. And let's not forget about the desserts - banana pudding and peach cobbler - YUM!

In addition to full-service BBQ options, the joint offers catering services for all types of events. Their professional caterers are reliable and punctual, as it is their priority to exceed customers' expectations and grow positive word of mouth.

A destination to the nth degree

When you visit J. Leonardi's Barbeque, you will be greeted by friendly staff showing southern hospitality and serving finger-licking food. Each dish is prepared to your liking, providing you with nothing but the best service and satisfying your hunger.
