

Progress Technology Services Extends Comprehensive Managed Services Portfolio & partners with Alert Logic MDR

London, Mar 5, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Progress Technology Services, a leading cybersecurity and managed services distributor, today announced a new partnership with Alert Logic to distribute the Alert Logic managed detection and response (MDR) solution to UK and EMEA businesses. This collaboration enables Progress Technology Services to provide its channel partners across Europe with disruptive, leading-edge security technologies and managed services to deliver businesses the critical 24/7 visibility across their IT environments required to minimise the likelihood and impact of destructive cyberattacks.

“We are thrilled to add Alert Logic to our market-leading managed service distribution offering,” said Simon Burgess, Managing Director Progress Technology Services. “Our partners and their customers are among a majority of businesses that are challenged by the cybersecurity skills shortage and are actively seeking a managed security services partner to strengthen their internal security teams or outsource the essential yet heavy-lifting aspects of their security operation to. With the addition of Alert Logic’s managed detection and response capabilities, our European VAR and MSSP communities can now deliver a comprehensive solution that meets their customers’ growing needs for a managed security service, that they can embed into their own solutions or sell directly to their customers.”

“In this ever-expanding digital age, businesses are increasingly looking to their partners to help them solve complex IT challenges,” commented Paul Reeves, Senior Manager, EMEA Partners, Alert Logic. “Our partnership with Progress enables their resellers to deliver the 24/7 visibility, security experts, and actionable threat intelligence their customers need to defend themselves against today’s cyber threats, whilst adding significant recurring revenue margins to their bottom-line.”

As attack surfaces expand and cyber-attacks become more sophisticated and more frequent, the need for managed detection and response services is increasing. If you are interested in learning more about Alert Logic and their market-leading approach to MDR, visit our webpage.

About Alert Logic

Alert Logic is the industry’s first SaaS-enabled managed detection and response (MDR) provider, delivering unrivalled security value. Since no level of investment prevents or blocks 100% of attacks, you need to continuously identify and address breaches or gaps before they cause real damage. With limited budget and expertise, this level of security can seem out of reach. Our purpose-built technology and the team of MDR security experts protect your organization and empower you to resolve whatever threats may come. Founded in 2002, Alert Logic is headquartered in Houston, Texas, with offices in Austin, Cardiff, London, and Cali, Colombia, and online at alertlogic.com. Alert Logic – our knowledge is your advantage.
