Benton Harbor, Mar 12, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Tarps Now® is pleased to announce the expansion of it's offering of industrial grade Heavy Duty Tarps used by construction contractors, manufacturers, trucking companies and a wide range of service industries throughout North America. Due to extraordinary sales growth among these customer groups, Tarps Now® undertook expansion of its industrial grade segment in order to meet ever increasing levels of demand. By example, contractors developing electric and gas utilities projects, oil and gas pipelines, retail shopping centers, multi-family community projects and healthcare industry facility projects.

In addition to the above merchandising expansion, Tarps Now® is meeting ever increasing demand for custom tarps and covers used to protect manufacturing machinery to sizes as large as electric utility cooling towers. Tarps Now® leads the industrial fabrics industry with technologies that are utilized to rapidly process tarps in a wide range of sizes, colors, fabrics and weights, as well as custom fittings engineered to meet even the most rigorous of demands. Custom made industrial tarps are often selected when stock sizes of canvas tarps will not meet the specifications of an individual project, or long-term client needs.

Supporting the vast array of industrial grade options available to clients, Tarps Now® is staffed by a very well-trained team of industry professionals equipped to meet customer service needs at every juncture. Customer ratings and reviews tell the tale, as Tarps Now® has the highest ratings found in the online industrial fabrics sector.
