Get to know Family Physician Dr. Adam Peter Calusic, who serves patients in Grafton, Wisconsin.

New York City, Apr 2, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - With over four decades of experience in his field, Dr. Calusic is a board-certified family physician who is affiliated with Aurora Health Center-Grafton in Wisconsin. It is a part of Aurora Health Care.

Aurora Health Care is an integrated, not-for-profit, and all-for-people health care provider serving communities throughout eastern Wisconsin and northern Illinois. Their approach involves treating each person as a person, not as a patient, an illness or an appointment.

The doctor's acclaimed career in medicine began in 1979 when he earned his Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree from the University of Osteopathic Medicine and Health Sciences. He then went on to complete his internship and residency at Heart of Lancaster Regional Medical Center in Pennsylvania.

In order to stay up to date in his field, Dr. Calusic remains a member of several professional organizations, including the American Osteopathic Association, the American College of Osteopathic Family Physicians, and the Wisconsin Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Additionally, he is board-certified in family medicine by the American Board of Family Medicine, a non-profit, independent medical association of American physicians who practice in family medicine and its sub-specialties.

Family medicine is a medical specialty devoted to comprehensive health care for people of all ages. The specialist is called a family physician or family doctor. A family physician is often the first person a patient sees when seeking healthcare services. They examine and treat patients with a wide range of conditions and refer those with serious ailments to a specialist or appropriate facility.
