Los Angeles, Apr 18, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Business services and software provider, Flowz, has launched one of the most cutting-edge video conferencing tools to date. The launch can not have been more timely as working remotely is the new norm. Video conferencing has become the most sought after solution for employees to communicate with one another.

Flowz's co-founder, Caroline Dalal, says, "At Flowz, our passion to help businesses succeed is reflected in the way we configured the Flowz Meeting app. Our global teams work remotely on a daily basis which entails consistent online collaboration. When providing input on strategies from design elements to video production, you need a tool that is not just user friendly but collaborative at the same time. Also what works for the Flowz teams is just as integral to the success of our clients who also work remotely."

One of the most critical features of the Flowz meeting app is the option for the user to generate unique meeting invites that enable only one-time use by each guest. Also, other controls allow the administrator to control the meeting so that there are no privacy violations. Other features include the ability to set a calendar and invite multiple guests to meetings.

Because the whiteboard is central to the meeting tool, Flowz Meeting is a perfect fit for schools, universities and tutoring centers. The Flowz meeting app is available on the Flowz portal. With the basic plan which is $59.00/month, you get five admin accounts.

Flowz is a subscription-based small business service and software provider. Services include graphics and design, video editing, data entry, call answering, digitizing, bookkeeping and much more. Caroline says, "For a flat fee entrepreneurs can access any of our service offerings per month. The reasoning behind our model was to provide small businesses with services and apps they require to set them up for success, at a lower cost. Customers buy packages based on the number of hours they need and access any services they require." Flowz is also offering free AI SEO services to help businesses who have negatively affected by the COVID-19 to rank higher on search engines.
