Get to know Ophthalmologist Dr. Mark D. Mayle, who serves patients in West Virginia and Maryland.

New York City, Apr 3, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Mayle is a board-certified ophthalmologist who specializes in cataract and refractive surgery procedures. He has a special interest in glaucoma and performs advanced surgical techniques for glaucoma. He has been with Regional Eye Associates in West Virginia since 1996. He sees patients at the offices in Morgantown and Petersburg, West Virginia and Cumberland, Maryland.

Regional Eye Associates offers a wide variety of eye care solutions including cataract surgery with options of multifocal, accommodating and astigmatism (Toric) intraocular lenses (IOLs), blade-free custom LASIK, retinal and vitreous surgery, glaucoma diagnosis and treatment, Visian Intraocular Collamer Lenses (ICL), diabetic exams and treatment of retinopathy, cornea transplants, a wide variety of eyeglasses, and contact lens fittings. The team of professionals includes experienced optometrists and ophthalmic surgeons, including the cornea and retinal subspecialists. They combine this experience with state-of-the-art technology to provide patients in West Virginia and Maryland with the best eye care options available.

The doctor's acclaimed career in medicine began in 1991 after he earned his medical degree from the West Virginia University School of Medicine, where he was inducted into the Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society. He also completed his internship and residency in ophthalmology at the same educational venue, where he served as chief resident during his final year of residency and was one of a small group of physicians who received one year of advanced additional training, over and above all other residents.

He is board-certified in ophthalmology by the American Board of Ophthalmology (ABO). The mission of the ABO is to serve the public by improving the quality of ophthalmic practice through a process of certification and Maintenance of Certification that fosters excellence and encourages continual learning.

Ophthalmology is a branch of medicine and surgery, which deals with the diagnosis and treatment of eye disorders. Ophthalmologists are experts in the diseases, functions, and anatomy of the eye. They may provide routine care such as vision testing, as well as prescribe and fit eyeglasses or contact lenses. However, ophthalmologists are also surgeons. They repair traumatic injuries to the eye and perform cataract, glaucoma, and corneal surgery.

When Dr. Mayle is not working, he enjoys many outdoor activities that include bicycling, rock climbing, kayaking, and motor cross. He resides in Morgantown with his wife.
