Indianapolis, Apr 17, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - OneCare, Inc. is offering its CareWatch and Monthly Service free of charge to users for a period of eight weeks or as specified by CDC guidance for social distancing. "It's critical for families and caregivers to have access to this social distancing solution during this time. It's our way of contributing to reducing the psychological, spiritual, physical, and economic effects of social isolation" says Karen Leeker, Managing Partner of Innovation, and Procter and Gamble alum.

The CareWatch Platform is the first and only stand-alone, direct cellular-connected, certified wrist wearable on the low power, wide area network (LTE-M) in the world. It's the robust feature set of health, wellness and confidence data is powered by Microsoft Azure and its IoT Hub, the leading Healthcare Cloud Platform and lives on the ATT LTE-M network.

Dr. Jeff Hatcher, OneCare Board Member, and Medical Director, and recent COVID-19 sufferer experienced first-hand the peace of mind the CareWatch brought to him and his family during his time in quarantine. "It was truly remarkable the effect it had. And I can also say, as a physician, OneCare is fundamentally changing the way we caregivers stay connected with our patients across the healthcare continuum...post-hospitalization, homecare, senior living and in the physician practice."
