

Celebrity Podcaster David Race Keeps Getting Stars to Talk UFO's!

Press release about celebrity podcast from Hollywood, where celebrities discuss paranormal

Los Angeles, May 5, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - When Los Angeles comedian, former radio personality, and paranormal enthusiast David Race launched MonstrosityPodcast.com in 2018, he knew it would find an audience. After all, he had previously created a podcast that landed him a TV deal in just 7 episodes. But his previous podcast featured comedians as in-studio guests, not celebrities. This time, Race was interested in having celebrities come in and have some fun, while discussing the paranormal. Not only have the celebrities come in, but they've surprised Race with how many paranormal stories of their own, they've brought in with them.

Race's podcast has featured stars of the show like the "Brady Bunch" talking about the Loch Ness Monster, "Daisy Duke" (actress Catherine Bach) discussing UFO's, Tania Raymonde (from "Lost" and "Amazon's "Goliath") musing about ghosts, Loni Anderson discussing being stalked by the ghost of Jayne Mansfield, and Shadoe Stevens (from "Hollywood Squares") claiming he once worked for aliens. And this is only a partial list of the paranormal guests and revelations, that have transpired on Monstrosity!

Race told us: "We don't require our celebrity guests to have a paranormal story or to even have an interest in the paranormal. I do a full and fun interview with each celebrity about their careers anyway. They just happen to keep spitting out these paranormal stories as well. It's been an unexpected surprise."

"Monstrosity with David Race" has found a large audience who eagerly snap up each new episode's release. Longer term Race would be happy to spin the podcast off into other mediums, including TV and live concert projects.

David Race told us: "The show is lots of fun to do, and to listen to. Nearly every guest we have on ends up emailing us that Monstrosity was the best podcast they've ever been on. I agree. It is."

All episodes of "Monstrosity with David Race" are available for free on all the major podcast platforms. Monstrosity has links to all the places to listen, and to all of its social media at MonstrosityPodcast.com
