FireVerse begins doing his part of music

Mandeville, Jun 4, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - If you love music from your heart, you can do no wrong is the philosophy of upcoming artiste FireVerse.

The 20-year-old singer is quickly earning a reputation on the live music scene with his unique sweet voice and even sweeter lyrics.

Son of the morning, Fabian 'FireVerse' Edwards believes he was born to do music.

"FireVerse is a yute with an open-minded approach to music. I've been doing music all my life, I've never worked a day in my life outside of music.

His friend Iamedz, a musician, recognized his talent and nurtured him in an environment in which he could grow into whatever area of music he chose. Always accompanying him to the studio, FireVerse grew up around the likes of Junior Reid, Barrington Levy, and the legendary Gregory Isaacs.

Always exposed to music

"I was always exposed to music, its the whole environment I grew up in," he said.

FireVerse confidently set out to make his mark in the business by writing his first song, Past the Wizzla, at only 16 years old.

By the age of 17, FireVerse had begun producing and building rhythms for artistes such as Alkhemy and C.histry. One of his popular rhythms was the Winning Beat rhythm for WrldClassic Records. Today he still produces, but for his own songs and sometimes other musicians.

He is currently working with Alkhemy 'C.histry' Iamedz of MedzMuzic Records.

"My music is just a symphony of all my favorite genres and artists. The music is a blend of everything or what I call world music," he said.

Last year, he released songs such as Flayvah, which earned him to followed up with Near the moon, and Today is not yesterday.

"I want to continue producing a different quality of music, its not about the awards for me, it's so that one day I can look back and say, Chronixx has done his part," he said.
