Mohamed G. Hussein, MD, an Internist with Texas Health Huguley Hospital Fort Worth South & Texas Health Presbyterian Hospital Dallas

New York City, May 7, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Fluent in both English and Arabic, Dr. Hussein is a caring and attentive internist who is affiliated with Texas Health Huguley Hospital Fort Worth South & Texas Health Presbyterian Hospital Dallas.

Texas Health Huguley Hospital Fort Worth South is a Seventh-day Adventist medical complex in south Fort Worth, Texas operated by AdventHealth. The campus includes a 213-bed acute care hospital, imaging center, behavioral center, fitness center, retirement community, nursing center, and hospice house.

Texas Health Presbyterian Hospital Dallas is a teaching hospital and tertiary care facility located in the Vickery Meadow area of Dallas, Texas. It provides a range of advanced medical services such as hybrid operating rooms that incorporate advanced imaging.

After earning his medical degree from the University of Medical Sciences and Technology in Sudan in 2007, Dr. Hussein relocated to the United States to further his training. Once there, he completed his residency in internal medicine at the University of Tennessee College of Medicine at Chattanooga.

Following his training, the doctor became board-certified in internal medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine, a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world.

Internal medicine is the medical specialty dealing with the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of adult diseases. Physicians specializing in internal medicine are called internists. They manage and prevent common and complex diseases by providing comprehensive care and promoting overall well-being.
