

Mayah Debuts her Grand Musical Career With Two Amazing Pop-Rock Songs

The Australian young artist with hypnotic sound, Mayah vents her emotional turbulence out in her passion-driven compositions to mark a gala entry in the industry.

Sunshine Coast, Dec 31, 1969 (Issuewire.com) - With an amazing versatile prowess of molding the melodies in any known musical genre and prodigious popularity for the debut hit 'Endless

Mistakes', the Aussie-artist Mayah takes another step towards becoming the biggest superstar in the country with a new rock song 'Butterflies (The Rush Inside)'. Both the songs are streaming on Spotify and Youtube with increasing numbers every day. Hailing from Queensland, her passion for music cannot be underrated anymore with two smashing hits at such a young age that tells a different story about her exuberant nature and audacious artistry that has the zeal of a phoenix.

Mayah had a blast for the last 10 months as her first single 'Endless Mistakes', produced by Peter Koppes from the band 'The Church, gave her the initial exposé that made her a famous young rock artist. After just completing grade 12, she resumes her recording adventure to produce the second single song 'Butterflies (The Rush Inside)' this year. It is blended in the alternative rock rhythms that help us to identify our reflection with her awakening vocal experience. With a fiery amalgam of indie rock and pop music produced by Sleepwalk Studio, the smooth melodic texture is only meant for her deep and echoing voice.

She started to love music before she could even mumble the rhymes in her school. She started to compose songs at the age of 3 in her primary school and soon became the lead singer in her school's rock group. With such zeal and dedication, she released the second new single recorded by Aaron Giffin on 24th March.
