

Nigeria Native Sarah Ogoke On High Expectations and Giving Back

Sarah Ogoke Basketball

Owerri, May 15, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - This year is one of the best Nigerian teams we have ever had, and we are expecting to perform at a high level", Sarah said. "Our women's program has incredibly high expectations from within and from without. I and several others are working on some big things for the preseason and we are also working on helping our youth programs become a powerhouse."

Sarah Ogoke has several camps and feeds the homeless drives coming up. "I am all about helping others", Sarah said. "It is always important to give back, and we are fortunate to not be in the position that most of these people are in. So any chance that you get to contribute to the community-not only today- it is important to do so."

"I will also make it my best to serve over 500 meals in 2020. People who will attend will also receive Sarah Ogoke warm-ups, basketballs, backpacks and a health bag with personal items in it."
