Translation Services Singapore is a translation agency founded in Singapore, A business entity registered with ACRA Singapore, and leading by a professional translator with extensive translation experience. We have a great team of translators capable of producing a translation that is of a professional standard. The translation produced by Translation Services Singapore is professionally usable and intelligible in the specified context. The intended effect and meaning of the original text are faithfully rendered.

Our professional translators understand local Singapore culture and emphasize local Singapore context, thus giving Translation Services Singapore an edge in producing high-quality translation with the accurate transfer of information between local languages and English. Proper translation and use of local languages matters, Translation Services Singapore have put extra efforts to ensure views and information are presented appropriately in the target culture, also ensure the register, style and language are appropriate in the target language.

Translation Services Singapore offers a wide range of translation services for both individuals and businesses in Singapore and overseas. One common translation demand in Singapore is the submission of personal documents to government agencies for various types of application. Translation Services Singapore serves individuals, human resources executives, human resource managers or office admins with their translation needs in MOM dependant pass or ICA PR applications. For these purposes, Translation Services Singapore provides certified translation services that are accepted by ICA, MOM, MOE, ECDA, LTA, and SPF.

We understand that for ICA application, documents not in English must be translated. As privately created translations need to be attested or notarised by a notary public in Singapore, Translation Services Singapore offers a hassle-free one-stop translation and notarization services. Convenience is one of the many reasons why our customers prefer to purchase one-stop services from Translation Services Singapore. Save yourself the hassle of searching for the right law firm, and trying to understand the procedure that you might not be confident what the whole process is about.

Our Translation Services Agency has broad experience in translating the basic documents that are required for ICA application but are not in English, including identity card (MyKad/?????), birth certificate (Sijil Kelahiran/ ????/ Akta Kelahiran), official household register or family register (????/ ????/ Kartu Keluarga) showing both parents' name, change of name certificate (Ganti Nama/ Perubahan Nama) (if applicable), highest educational certificates including all tertiary qualifications (SPM certificate/ ????), academic transcripts (Polytechnic or University, undergraduate/ postgraduate), professional license (????/ ????).

Translation Services Singapore also understand that for married applicants who want to include their husband or wife, and also children in their ICA application, additional documents are required including marriage certificate, birth certificate, a divorce certificate if there is any previous marriage (Decree Nisi/ ???/ ????), custody papers for the children if there is any previous marriage (Pendaftaran Pengangkatan), and spouse's highest educational certificates.

Our translation services agency has helped many individuals or corporate clients for translation of documents required for application of MOM Dependant's Pass. For non-English documents, the applicant must submit the original document and an English translation. The translation can be done by a translation service provider like us. Translation Services Singapore is qualified to translate these documents including marriage certificate for spouse, unmarried children's birth certificate stating the parent's names, and/or if applicable, adoption order or other relevant documents for any unmarried legally adopted children under 21 years.

Translation Services Singapore has also helped many China clients in the conversion of their foreign driving licence to Singapore driving licence. If the foreign driving licence is not in English, the applicant must have an official translation of the driving licence in English. The translation can be obtained from a Singapore registered translation company like Translation Services Singapore.

Besides rendering our translation services to support individual or corporate client for their employee's electronic application submission to Singapore government, Translation Services Singapore also offers translation services for businesses dealing with oversea counterparts in their business activities that involve translation of a contract, manual, financial report, brochure or PowerPoint presentation slides.

For businesses, our agency has broad experience in translation of a commercial contract, memorandum of understanding, operation manual, user manual, instruction manual, training materials, auditor reports, financial statements, marketing brochures, corporate presentation slides, sales or marketing presentation materials, product technical specifications, manufacturing certificates, business letters, correspondence emails, and etc.

Other than these, we offer legal transcription and translation services for law firms and their clients. The agency uses our transcription expertise to convert audio or video speech to English text as evidence that is used for court hearings or legal proceedings of commercial dispute, family dispute or divorce case, and also for those applying for a personal protection order. For recordings that involve Singlish, English words are mixed with terms from Malay, Mandarin, Chinese dialects and Tamil. The sentence structure and grammar in the speech are also highly influenced by these mixed languages. Having understand Singapore culture and familiar with local dialects and Singlish, Translation Services Singapore is capable to transcribe and translate speech or recordings in local hybrid languages that are not generally machine-readable or that could be unfamiliar to foreign-based translator or transcriptionist.

Translation Services Singapore provides high-quality translation and transcription services with fast turnaround time.
