

Artist Joey Restivo Urges His Audience to Stop and Smell the Roses through the Single 'TAKE OUR TIME'

Florida, Jun 28, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - The single 'TAKE OUR TIME' by artist Joey Restivo in association with BANGnARMI is a reminder that even in the monotony and breathlessness of today's dynamic world, it is vital to steer our sights towards the importance of emotional happiness. Although we are all institutionalized to follow the standards of life definitions of making money and satisfying our worldly needs, the artist urges his audience through the song to stop and smell the roses once in a while. The song is a beautiful reality check told through lyrical intensity where the artist is chasing to establish the importance of celebrating life. According to Restivo himself, the song is a thematic expression about the feeling of happiness, peace, and love that he wants to spread across this world that is so divided nowadays. The record aims at delivering the audience a little bit of refreshing air.

The thematic display of 'TAKE OUR TIME' is like an open invitation for people to forget for a moment about their worries, their job, their problems, and take time to be happy and enjoy life. Joey Restivo expresses his inner mind through the song as a liberation of his positive vibe to those surrounding him. However, life is not about these superficial displays of happiness, but its essence lies in our association with the earth. The trials and turbulences of life never come invited, and this uncertainty is all the more reason why we need to stop our race at times and focus on the small, emotional experiences that would help us reach individual closure and contentment. 'TAKE OUR TIME' is a mesmeric tale that makes the audience realize the importance of conveying love and inspiration, and it is, in reality, the insignificant interpersonal connections that make us complete life's arc. The song does look down upon the importance of financial independence that enables us to push our abilities towards an impactful side. But the song teaches its audience to take their spirit and freedom seriously.

Joseph Restivo was born on April 30th and grew up in Brooklyn, New York, and later took the stage name Joey 'Bang' Restivo. He is a singer, songwriter, and producer and was part of 90s pop freestyle band Linear who rolled out hits like "Sending All My Love" and "Don't You Come Crying." Now with his solo career also taking off with flying colors, Joey is an entrepreneur in many industries; music, production, film, and video, and he makes appearances all over the United States and Latin America. He is the founder of a Record Label called Artists At Play, giving a chance for talented artists around the world to accomplish their dreams. He owns businesses in many different fields such as Hotels, Concierge Medical Services, Entertainment, Digital Marketing, and Promotion.

As an artist and a singer, he has always expressed his opinions against social injustice. His singles are all about respect for equality and overcoming language barriers through the universal language of love and being thoughtful with everything we do by taking care of the environment, and contributing to improve our home, the planet. His songs are always a reflection of what he feels, and experiences and his adventurous life has helped him to identify the positive side and sort them out in a pleasant way. His lyrics are an inspiration that invites the audience to spread positivity to everyone. His initiative to pushing upcoming artists and giving them the opportunity through Artists At Play's platform to showcase their flairs makes him a visionary and a harbinger of creative freedom.
