Olajide Orodo’s latest Afrobeat song ‘Matter’ seems to be on everyone’s lips as he introduces some fresh new beats and rhythms to let the listener groove endlessly.

Kiev, Jun 16, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - A great artist explores the roots of a genre to emerge with the best ideas and in addition to all the names that have gifted some truly fascinating music in today’s time, one singer who has outdone them all is Olajide Orodo, popularly known as GMG Boss. The artist possesses contagious energy and charm in his voice that is hard to spot in recent times. With his unmatched creativity, he has redefined the Afro music and has taken his art to new heights. His voice beams with energy and enthusiasm as he offers a fine injection of authentic afro beats to his songs. The innovative singer interprets his musicality most attractively and gifts the audience tracks that urge them to tap their feet compulsively. Engaging, catchy, and groovy are the terms that summarize his soundscapes.

The Ukraine singer and producer have created several tracks in the past that have rightfully earned him his current stake in the industry. To further plaster his name the singer has come up with another exciting single titled ‘Matter’. The song provides some infectious grooves and the blend of impressive drum beats gives the song an enjoyable cover. It’s a refreshing take on Afrobeat sound design that effectively draws anyone in with its fun mood melodies.

Olajide Orodo is considered to be a talent who explores a fresh musical approach and the latest song ‘Matter’ that has been built under the label Glory music Group influences the audience to believe that. Just one listen is enough to appreciate his music material and suits as the perfect dance piece as he chooses groovy afro music to uphold his distinctive style. The artist has a voice that is born to receive attention from the audience all over and can be heard on all major streaming sites including Soundcloud.
