The company tends to maintain a huge stock of cylinder valves and regulators of renowned brands to cater to the Middle East, Yemen, and African countries.

With the growing demand for oil, companies are working steadily to develop fuel sources for further expansion and this isn't going to slow down anytime soon. Therefore, choosing the right equipment to streamline procedures in the oil and gas industry becomes enormously important. Industries need efficient equipment during oil and gas production such as valves, compressors, furnaces, heat exchangers, regulators, and more. However, selecting the right equipment can relatively be a challenging task, especially when you need to fulfil the demands of today's fast-paced operating conditions. Since one small breakage may turn into major problems, finding a product with a high level of durability will certainly save more time, money, and efforts.

EFG Dubai has crossed several milestones in the past and now have got efficient partners to supply all sorts of high standard components for stationary plants and tank trunks. The entity works tirelessly to maintain a huge stock of fittings for pipelines, pumps and compressor units, valves for tanks, loading arm stations and cylindrical filling plants, metering systems, vaporisers, safety equipment, dispensers, and complete autogas filling stations. Alongside strong connections with reputed gas accessories brands, the company ensures to offer the finest material, individual innovative solutions, technical support, and fast delivery to meet the demands of potential customers.

EFG Dubai has built a great reputation in the market by supplying a wide range of gas accessories such as pressure gauges, cylinder and service valves, multi-valve assemblies, LPG repair kits, regulators, ball valves, loading arms, dispensers, LPG compressors, and much more.
