

Global FX Trading Group launches a six-hour program to help people decide their future

Innovative FX trading solutions provider, Global FX Trading Group, creates “Become a Trader,” a six-hour program to help individuals decide if a new, work-at-home career might be a good, long term solution

Chicago, Jun 2, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - The COVID-19 pandemic has wreaked a lot of havoc across the globe and America remains one of the worst-hit countries. Reports revealed that about 17 million Americans are currently unemployed, with the figures predicted to rise if the virus returns this winter. However, Global FX Trading Group has created an FX training program – “Become a Trader” to help individuals decide if a new, work at home career might be a good, long term solution.

“Become a Trader” will be presented by Jeff Wecker, a former member of the Chicago Board of Trade, CEO of Global FX Trading Group, and an experienced FX trader. Jeff is also the leading FX trader on Ticker Tocker, the international trading platform, registered and licensed with the SEC, where world leaders come to compete.

Jeff Wecker is known for sharing his wealth of knowledge and experience with as many people as possible via all available platforms. The CEO of Global FX Trading Group has transitioned from being a fantastic trader to a respected educator and will be covering different FX subjects in the online FX trading course to help people decide as to whether FX trading is a viable career option.
