Kyanna was raised in the natural milieu to thrive on her inherited musical interests in classic rock and folk songs. Living in the seaside town of Sandwich with her father gave her the exposure to delve uninterruptedly into the world of melodies. She started writing songs when kids are supposed to play in the mud. Her desperate yearnings to create something unique and completely her own allowed her to record her first EP Underground back in 2015. Her life turned to a new phase when she decided to move to London to fulfill her dreams with her producer boyfriend.

‘She’ is a groovy single with all the love and passion she has for music and the strong femininity she possesses.
