

Raw Politics India - A Political Rating Website

New Delhi, Jun 8, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Raw Politics India is a political rating website, one & only of its kind. The deep moto of the website is to provide a platform to common people of India, who are not well aware of the everyday political happenings in our country. People want to vote the political parties & their nominees during elections but they don't know exactly whom to vote and why. And most of the time, this lack of awareness leads to unjust voting, electing the undeserving politicians and bringing unworthy parties or leaders in power. In this era of information, where everyone can get the knowhow of daily politics & its hidden agenda, still, unfortunately, the misinformation overpowers.

The above-mentioned problems created the need followed up by the idea to develop this Website, where people can easily check the ratings and reviews about all the political leaders, provided both by public and Website itself. This idea as a whole can be understood as – RATE BEFORE YOU VOTE.

Talking about the website contents & features, it has created the profiles of each & every politician across India (all MPs, MLAs & MLCs), which gets updated from time to time. All the basic information of those politicians like their current party name, current constituency, Ministry (if holding any charge), date since when they get elected in the current constituency, etc are available which makes them distinct from each other.

It has Raw Ratings for every profile under which the website provides ratings to all the elected politicians out of 10, based upon their time to time performances in their respective constituencies or Ministries. The website can anytime change this rating according to their performance and will also give the reason for that under the Raw Critics section. In addition to that, there is a detailed review system under the Raw Critics section for every profile. It also has a Public Rating section in which all the logged-in users of the website can rate all the elected politicians on five different criteria which are mentioned below:-

- 1.Upliftment in Education & Health
- 2.Law & Order
- 3.Economic & Administrative Development
- 4.Religious & Communal Harmony
- 5.Connectivity with people & grievance redressal

Users can also provide their feedback for every politician under the comments section. There is an Ask Question section for every profile under which all users can ask any question and anyone can answer that. Set favorites to any profile is another feature in which users can make a list of their favorite politicians so as to easily their updates or changes. Email directly to them, link to their various social media platforms like Facebook, Twitter, etc are some more salient features.

Regular articles on current topics are created under Trending Articles section. Top listings on the home page create some of the highest rankings on various topics at regular intervals. Weekly Polls are created to understand the public views on current affairs & to gather the survey reports. Additionally, Track the Leaders section ease/help to go directly to any elected politician's profile through selecting their constituency. It has two different columns namely Upper House and Lower House for both Centre and state levels.

Our smooth & user-friendly home page provides a brief space for every category/section mentioned above. Below to the slider bar, there is a column for Top-rated politician category which shows the top-ranked/rated politicians amongst all. Then, there are Top Rated sections for MPs & MLAs/MLCs separately, under which the top five profiles of politicians are shown rated both by Website & Public, which changes from time to time.

Join Us column invites the public to join with the Website and contribute their knowledge for well being of the politics of the country or one can contact the Website Admin.

Media Contact

Raw Politics India

rawpoliticsindia@gmail.com

Source : Raw Politics India

See on IssueWire