Get to know Family Physician Dr. Talaya Clark, who serves patients in Charlotte, North Carolina.

New York City, Jun 23, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Dr. Clark is a board-certified family physician who provides care for the entire family. With nearly two decades of experience in her field, she practices at Atrium Health Biddle Point, a facility of Carolinas Medical Center (CMC) in Charlotte, North Carolina.

CMC is the flagship hospital of Atrium Health, which is distinguished throughout the Southeastern United States for its excellent patient care and medical expertise. It operates at two locations: CMC and Atrium Health Mercy. From modest beginnings in 1943, it has evolved into the largest hospital in the region and a world-class facility that offers a full range of services to the Charlotte community and beyond, with more than 1,100 physicians and providers specializing in all areas of medicine.

The doctor's acclaimed career in medicine began after she earned her medical degree from the Medical College of Pennsylvania-Hahnemann University. Upon graduation, Dr. Clark went on to serve her residency in family medicine at Carolinas Medical Center in 2005.

With an unwavering commitment to her specialty, the doctor is board-certified in family medicine by the American Board of Family Medicine (ABFM). The ABFM is a non-profit, independent medical association of American physicians who practice in family medicine and its sub-specialties.

Family medicine is a medical specialty devoted to comprehensive health care for people of all ages. The specialist is called a family physician or family doctor. A family physician is often the first person a patient sees when seeking healthcare services. They examine and treat patients with a wide range of conditions and refer those with serious ailments to a specialist or appropriate facility.
