

E-commerce company Anystyle's founder and CEO Amardeep Singh decided to launch a news network, fluxXnews.

Lucknow, Jul 19, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - In March 2020 Amardeep Singh founded an e-commerce company Anystyle with his sister Supriya Singh. After the successful launch of Anystyle Amardeep Singh have decided to launch a news network, fluxXnews. Which will be live soon.

He says, "In news industry this time news content is worthless. Today should we work on youth-related things and education because the future depends on only these two things. So we decided to launch our own news network and we focus on these two things minutely keeping in mind the need for youth."

He also talks about Anystyle company and says they are working on wallet system on Anystyle where customers can store their money, can do shopping, can transfer money with their friends and family on Anystyle to Anystyle wallet, can recharge their sim cards and also can transfer their Anystyle wallet money to the bank account.
