

Earvin Eugene is a Stellar Author for Freshman Novel "Show and Tell" and Just Released Sophomore Novella "Now You Know"

Give This Rising Star a Chance

Brookhaven, Jul 1, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Earvin Eugene has his humble beginnings of writing by following F. Scott Fitzgerald, Ta-Nehisi Coates, and Barack Obama. Earvin respects the simplicity of "This Side of Paradise", the realism of "Between The World and Me", and the reflective nature of "Dreams From My Father". He combines techniques of keeping a journal of special moments and imagination to create works of literary fiction. Earvin wants "to share the common human conditions of pain, sorrow, love, and hardship to produce a more creative world."

It is safe to say that Earvin wants to learn from the past and present to pave a new path for the future. He is close to his family and enjoys communication with certain friends. He looks for inspiration through relationships. Earvin states, "it is best to capture a strong emotion or experience whether it be your own or from a loved one and share the news with an interesting twist." He truly wants to travel and make a name for himself to bring more literary pieces.

Earvin is honest, kind, and humble. He is eager to make a difference in the world. You can tell with his ambition, the right support, and some luck he is bound to make waves. He mentions, "I will not stop until I leave a lasting impact." Earvin is on the search for more guidance and positive influences to produce meaningful writing. You can purchase his books "Show and Tell" and "Now You Know" on Amazon, GooglePlay, Apple, and Barnes & Noble. Make sure to leave good ratings and positive feedback. He wants to see who enjoys his writing. Look for more from this star on the rise!
