

Unlu available on the Apple App Store and the Google Play Store

An app to book personalized messages from your favorite celebrities, now available for both iOS and Android devices

Pune, Jul 11, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - A fan-to-star connect platform, Unlu lets users directly request personalized video messages from their favorite celebrities.

The Unlu app is perfect for numerous occasions, from a friend's birthday to your parent's anniversary, to get a video message for any special occasion. You could even wish best of luck to your child for the board exams, or just get a good morning from your favorite celebs.

Just like other apps, sign in / sign up to unlu and then choose your favorite star to get a video from. After registering yourself on the app, you can request a wish video in 3 simple steps. Place the request and make the payment. You will get the confirmation and video message in the next 7 days. Even more, once the celeb video message gets uploaded on the platform, you can download the requested video. You can share the video as many times as you wish.

This app is a user-friendly app and it has a very easy to use and intuitive user interface. At this app, you can provide a few details and get the celeb video message as soon as possible. Though celebrities are usually busy, the response time is quick. It takes them some time before they complete your order, usually 7-14 days.

Unlu app is now available on the App Store and Google Play Store. Both Android and iOS users can now download this app for free.
