Sacramento, Aug 26, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - American actress and comedian Tisha Vaculin gets on with the trend and shares her exclusive thoughts on the new Instagram feature titled 'Instagram

Reels'. The video starts with the diva seen driving her car. She wears a blue spaghetti top with her blonde hair left opened to feel the windy breeze flowing across the window. While describing her journey so far she said that she was stuck in a twenty minutes long traffic during which she badly had the urge to visit the loo but couldn't. Being her witty self, the actress expressed her feelings in a really funny way. With no destination in mind, she just drives and shares her thoughts on the new reel update.

As known to all, the comedian has not made many appearances on YouTube videos but surprisingly has been receiving a lot of requests to appear on the new reel feature. The video is about her speaking her mind out about this interesting new addition on Instagram. It was a year ago when she was already doing a great job in TikTok that she heard about Reel. The algorithm seemed quite fascinating to her as on Instagram she went on to gather more than 50k followers within a year and a half, with more than a hundred followers subscribing to her profile a day and the same count unsubscribing as well. All of this made her quite anxious. However, now her view has changed and she feels that Reel is not like TikTok but also believes that every platform takes its own to flourish and the same goes for Instagram reels as well. It's a new opportunity for people to discover and put forward their creative side. She was excited to let her fans know that on Reel she gathered forty-seven new followers instantly who did not come from TikTok, and it was a big achievement. The analytics were booming and rather skyrocketing as she mocked. She also stated that her second post on Reels got over forty thousand views in just six hours.

While speaking her heart, Tisha Vaculin made a shocking revelation that everyone who has a profile on either Instagram Reel or TikTok, in that case, is bound to lose followers, and tells why that is completely fine. No one wants to have followers who do not appreciate the other's work and therefore it is in a sense good to have those followers who genuinely appreciate your hard work and talent. She feels that 'Instagram Reels' is working great for her and she likes it although it hasn't made a huge shift in her follower count the amount of engagement she has on her page is huge she exclaimed. People are lively on her page and from her end she feels that she needs to give it her time as she is having a fun time doing that. Lastly, before her trip ended she thanked all her followers on both TikTok and Instagram and urged all to share their thoughts on the new reels in the comment section along with their ID names so that she can check them out too. You can now find the video on YouTube and follow for those who still haven't followed her, can find her on Instagram now.
