Toronto, Aug 28, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Moving to a new country, a new home, and a new culture can be overwhelming. Employment, housing, immigration, finance, taxes, documentation, social nuances, etc. can be quite confusing in the first few months. To aid current and potential newcomers to Canada, Canready Consultants Inc. is hosting an interactive online event on September 6th, 2020 at 9 am Eastern Time - “The First 180 Days in Canada- A New Chapter of Opportunities”. The Panel Discussions and Speaking Sessions feature Industry Professionals (from tech, marketing, finance, HR, etc.) and Service Experts who have walked this path before. Attendees can look to receive information, inspiration, and insights on how they can make this journey a personal and professional success.

The panelists and speakers include Kundan Joshi (CEO, TheAppLab), Rishi Chandarana (Co-Founder & CEO, RhythmQ and RQ Awards), Akshata Kalyanpur (Director, Strategic Communications, HOOPP), Shweta Bhatnagar (Sr. Strategist, Leo Burnett), Vrushalee Nachar (Organizational Development Manager, Rogers), Sam Dhand (Founder & CEO, LUXNET), Anil Rege (Founder, Make Consulting), Prateek Singh (Personal Real Estate Corporation, Inderjit Viridi (Financial Advisor, Edward Jones Investments) and more.

Carla Ortiz, who signed up for the event says, “I am looking to grow as a designer and I have always dreamed of living in a country that gives me that opportunity. Canada is not only an ideal country, in any aspect, but for me, it is a goal. I hope that with this event I can solve my doubts to be able to plan my future." (Spanish translated) For attendees like her, Canready has created an exclusive LinkedIn community where case studies, articles, expert sessions, and more information will be shared. It will be a chance to network and build connections before landing.

Alisha Goriawala, another attendee has this to say, "In tough times like now, it becomes a challenge to connect and build relations with like-minded professionals as most people are living in a bubble. Especially for someone who is looking at Canada as a future step, it becomes almost impossible to network with the 'right' set of people. Thanks to Canready for giving us this platform and opportunity to make this happen. I am looking forward to gaining a lot of knowledge and to network with some accomplished individuals who have made Canada a reality."

Kunal Bajaj, Founder, and Director at Canready Consultants Inc. add "We're thrilled to have a stellar line-up of speakers and panelists who are keen to share their experiences and insights. We've navigated these waters before and as newcomers, benefited from such guidance and counsel. This is our small way of helping those who would like to follow."
