

Hempstrax launches their CBG Skincare Line and Product Line

CBG has been found to have numerous dermatological applications

Los Angeles, Aug 30, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Hempstrax launches its Vegan CBG Skincare Line and CBG Product Line

Hempstrax has launched its new CBG Skincare Line. The line consists of a Rosehip & Hibiscus facial toner, moisturizer, and serum. It's all organic and vegan. Later this month they will be launching a Blood Orange, Walnut Facial Scrub and a Lavender Body Butter.

Hempstrax currently sells a 1:1 Ratio CBD/CBG tincture in 1,000mg, 5,000mg & 10,000mg. They also sell a CBG Isolate Tincture.

They started their mission to become leaders in the CBG space when a friend in Oregon grew organic 'White CBG' flower. This CBG flower won 1st Place in at the 2019 Oregon Growers Cup. They added the flower to their menu and it has become a favorite amongst their customers. They saw the amazing potential of CBG and decided to move forward with adding CBG to their product line.

‘CBG is showing amazing potential in its ability to treat and restore the skin’, said Jason Jones, owner and founder of Hempstrax. ‘It was just a natural progression to incorporate this amazing cannabinoid into a skincare line.’

CBG is the Stem-Cell Cannabinoid

CBG is often referred to as the ‘mother’ cannabinoid. All Phyto cannabinoids start out as CBG. The trichomes within the flower trigger the reaction that converts CBG into THC, CBD, CBN etc. This usually results in a very small amount of residual CBG remaining in the flower.

Geneticists have been working to isolate the recessive gene within the hemp plant to allow it to contain a much higher percentage of CBG. There are now many strains of high percentage CBG. Clinical trials are proving CBG’s efficacy in treating a range of skin conditions. It shows preliminary promise in treating tumors. CBG has been studied to treat eczema and redness. It has also been shown to be anti-inflammatory and healing. It’s properties are not unlike CBD. What is different is its ability to treat below the dermis to heal and promote new cell growth.
