Honolulu, Aug 16, 2020 (IssueWire.com) - Black filmmaker Lyron Foster has announced that his film 'In the Re-Beginning' will make its official debut on February 2, 2022. The groundbreaking new film will feature an all-CGI cast in the light of COVID-19.

Originally, the film was set to have a real cast, but those actors and actresses have been reassigned to offer their voices for the CGI-cast.

Foster is an innovator in entertainment whose expertise includes being an actor, author, coder, filmmaker, and musician. He's also an entrepreneur at the helm of Code Armada, LLC, and Mobile Grindz. When it comes to making films, Foster aims to step away from the mainstream and create indie works of art. 'In the Re-Beginning' gives audiences a sense of Foster's true sense of style. Even in the face of shutdowns and quarantines due to COVID-19, Foster and his crew have adapted to ensure that the film's production continues while also keeping the safety of everyone involved in mind.

The entire film was reimagined and digitized using technology from ReAllusion, Unreal Engine, Side FX (Houdini), and AutoDesk Maya.

Soon, Foster says more information about the film will be released via the official 'In the Re-Beginning' IMDb page. Information to be released will include full cast information, a complete synopsis, and more. At this time, the movie remains under production as the team takes on an entirely new dynamic with the film's new digital landscape.

Foster hopes to break barriers in terms of diversity with his new film, which includes a diverse cast from various backgrounds serving in roles designed to challenge common stereotypes in today's media and entertainment.
