

A new print on demand solution launched for small and medium online businesses

North Rhine-Westphalia, Sep 7, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Shirtee.Cloud App, a new print-on-demand solution, is launched focusing on fulfilling and shipping printed products such as T-Shirts, mugs, pillow covers, sweatshirts, phone cases, and bags. Located in Germany, Shirtee.Cloud is created to actively support and develop a new print on demand business ideas through its dropshipping services.

Shirtee.Cloud offers automatic, on-demand printing with warehousing and fulfillment services, to manage print orders for small and medium scaled online businesses. As a white-label solution, online businesses can ensure products such as printed posters and t-shirts from their brand. The option for one-off, on-demand orders and no subscription free eliminate sizeable financial risk. This offers small businesses and start-up websites a safe platform to monetize their content.

The idea for Shirtee.Cloud has evolved out of the experience gained from projects handled by the Founder and CEO Nino Boender. He stated that “the need for a quality partner for printing and shipping led to creating a system for small and medium-scaled online business needs. Now the small businesses are able to outsource their printing to a trustworthy partner. We differentiate Shirtee from the other dropshipping services in a way that it provides API, which automatically sends the order to the Shirtee app to be fulfilled, thereby eliminating any manual input.”

He added that “unlike most printing companies, small order sizes are not penalized, but somewhat encouraged. The Shirtee.Cloud app encourages any small site or blog to monetize its content or anyone with the necessary skills to quickly sell their digital artwork on t-shirts, coffee mugs, and caps. The app offers industry-leading capabilities, ensuring that our client’s print on demand business is personalized, unique, and memorable, even for those who have very little or no design experience.

Shirtee.Cloud app can be integrated with Shopify, Amazon, WooCommerce, Shopware, Prestashop, Esty, Rakuten, Hood.de, Wix, Squarespace, WooCommerce, and other popular online e-commerce platforms. It currently offers printing on several products, including bags, hoodies, phone cases, pillow covers, and sweatshirts. It enables customers to browse designs easily and quickly personalize them with their personal information, text, images, and color scheme. The customers can also choose from many different shapes, edges, styles, giving their print on demand products a truly premium look.
