About DRE THE ROSE

“I’m a dope singer-songwriter! I believe I’m the life of the party I wake up in the morning and I’m on 10, if I see the sun or not I’m still waking up in the best positive mood most of the time, I try to give that energy to everybody that’s around me, I’m really goofy I love watching anime with my son. I’m a ladies man most of my friends are females I have a lot of guy friends but most of my friends are females you can call me a feminist, I love the LGBT community, for me it such a fun vibe when people live life as they please and not to please others, I’m a single parent and a hustler. Coming from poverty I’ve built my own unique way of making things happen no matter what, I was born in raised in the Bay Area currently living in LA.”
