

Medical Specialists, PA Awarded “2020 Top Shockwave Therapy Provider” in Minnesota ” By SWSNA

Full Honorable Mention To Acoustic Wave Clinic Provider Gary R., CNP, For Demonstration Of Elite Skill In Novel Synergistic Approaches In Minnesota

Edina, Sep 7, 2020 (Issuewire.com) - Medical Specialists in Edina, MN, was voted “Top Shock Wave Therapy Provider” in Minnesota. They were also recognized as the “Top PRP Specialists” earlier this year. The 2020 SWSNA Best SWT Award only honors one provider state-wide. Voting was held online between August and September by SWSNA leadership. This award recognizes individual providers and medical groups for excellence in the field of acoustic wave therapy, which has grown across America to span several medical specialties including Physical Therapy, Neuropathy, Podiatry, Aesthetic, OBGYN, and Urology.

In response to receiving this award, Gary R., CNP and ESWT provider at Medical Specialists said, “The entire team is thrilled to receive the Top Shock Wave Therapy Providers in Minnesota Award, and we are proud of our community of amazing patients.”

For more than a decade, Medical Specialists, PA, has provided clients with advanced, non-surgical treatments to rejuvenate the body and improve daily life. Their state-of-the-art medical clinic helps both men and women to look and feel their best by providing a host of clinically proven solutions. The practice makes an ongoing investment each year in the most advanced treatments and in providing a broad range of health and wellness options. Medical Specialists treatment providers receive ongoing training in emerging technologies in order to offer clients options with the greatest benefits. Medical Specialists is among the top speciality centers in the Twin Cities area and even in the country because they introduce treatments that later become industry-standard best practices.

About The Awardee:

With over 20 FDA-approved devices in their offices, Medical Specialists hosts an oasis of wellness solutions. They are not restricted to a single technology or technique- unlike one-off places with only a handful of in-house devices. Instead, they invest in their practitioners and in their clients and concentrate on identifying customized solutions for their clients’ individual goals and needs. Their unique position is to provide patients access to the newest regenerative medicine technologies on demand through their unique collaborations across the medical community. They perform over 10,000 procedures each year. Their solutions are backed by thousands of client success stories and years of use at facilities throughout the United States. The recent awards are a testament to the hard work and dedication of the entire Medical Specialists team and to the trust their clients place in them.

Focusing on non-surgical treatments including popular skin and hair regeneration prp techniques, Medical Specialists may not appear more substantiated than a common medspa. Backed by a growing body of US-based medical research, they uniquely pair their shockwave therapeutics to work synergistically with other advanced methods to accelerate the patients healing process.

About the SWSNA Award:

This annual award is presented to healthcare providers throughout America whose outstanding contributions and work in the field of Extracorporeal Shockwave Therapy enhancing the quality of life in their communities. Extracorporeal shockwave therapy (ESWT)—also known as acoustic wave therapy—has rapidly become the gold-standard for the treatment of chronic health conditions that are not otherwise managed by conventional care methods. Awardees are distinguished by their specialty and communities. Requirements for this professional accolade:

- A minimum of 2-year experience providing Extracorporeal Shockwave Therapy
- Maintain a professional membership with the Shock Wave Society of North America
- Demonstrate ESWT proficiency in their medical specialty with over 90% google approval ratings.

Media Contact: Gary R., CNP, Medical Specialists, information@medicalsps.net

###

Media Contact

Shock Wave Society of North America

info@swsna.org

9522255400

Source : Medical Specialists, PA

See on IssueWire