S.A.N-Publishing is more than just an eBook store. It also embodies several other important attributes. E.g. Positive-Living Advice Blog, where readers can get helpful information, tips, and recommendations to make better life choices. As well as a playlist of bible study classes to encourage your spiritual journey. This platform has it all covered.

Sonia is the founder of this wonderful channel. An independently published author of several books. She created this platform to better connect with readers, and give them access to her books, positive-message blogs, and spiritual encouragement videos, etc.

Sonia is naturally introverted. But since creating S.A.N-Publishing, she has found a new way to connect with people in a manner that would not be otherwise, possible... Kind natured and deeply passionate about people and things, she enjoys giving advice and encouragement to anyone who cares to listen, hence, she started a career as a writer. Even better, is the fact that she has discovered the power of inspiring blogs and encouragement videos, avenues she hopes to continue, in her bid to add value to the society and the world in general.
